

HOCHDORF Group Press Release: New supply agreement in China

Sustainable growth for the HOCHDORF Group in the Chinese market

Hochdorf, 4th December 2012 – HOCHDORF Nutricare Ltd., part of the HOCHDORF Group, has signed a supply agreement with Beingmate Ltd. The number three in the Chinese baby care market plans to place medium-term orders amounting to around 2,000 tonnes of infant formula per year.

HOCHDORF Nutricare Ltd. is already working with several partners in China – not so unusual in this country, where approximately 17 million babies are being born each year. There are 48 million children in China between the ages of one and three, which is the market for infant formula and infant food. Negotiations with Beingmate Ltd. were concluded at the beginning of December. The HOCHDORF Group is expecting another huge boost in growth from this cooperation.

As the agreement was signed, Damian Henzi, CEO of the HOCHDORF Group, highlighted the pride felt by everyone at HOCHDORF at the prospect of working with the number three player in the Chinese baby care market. "We don't take a partner of this stature for granted. We are honoured by the trust the Beingmate Group has placed in us, whilst at the same time recognising the challenge of constantly improving our work as BEST PARTNER," explained Damian Henzi. The first products will be delivered as early as spring-time 2013. Michiel de Ruiter, Managing Director of HOCHDORF Nutricare Ltd., is delighted that another agreement has been signed: "We expect that the agreements concluded at the beginning of October and this agreement with Beingmate Ltd. will lead to a growth beyond average in the Chinese market in the coming years."
